The members of the attacking party who registered for the draft in the Fifth district of Denver, was offi-cially removed from the War department's list of alleged draft evaders. Conger served honorably in the army during the war and was discharged as a first lieutenant in 1919, the an-nouncement said. His is the fifth name to be removed officially,

The failure to identify Conger's draft record with his military service record was due to the fact, the War department said, that the address he gave at his resignation differed from that which he gave when he was commissioned.

For Jurist Saturday Death of Chief Justice White of U. S. Supreme Court Casts Shadow of Sorrow Over Capital.

Valued Position Highly

Washington, May 19.—The death here early this morning of Edward Douglass White, veteran chief justice of the United States supreme court, cast a shadow of sorrow to-day over the national capital, where during his long years of service on the supreme bench, he had grown in the admiration and esteem no only of his official associates, but of the entire community. Although all hope for the chief justice's recovery following an operation last Friday had been abandoned since he took a critical turn for the worse two days ago, the news of his death, which occurred at 2 o'clock this morning came as a shock to friends and associates.

The chief justice, who was 76 years old, had enjoyed rugged health up to the time he was froced to submit to the recent operation for bladder trouble and his record of attendance on the supreme court bench was traditional. Wife at Bedside.

At the bedside, when death came, were the wife of the chief justice, his two meces, Miss Ann Montgomery and Miss Mary Lee Broussard, and the Rev. Father S. J. Creeden, of Georgetown university, who had administred the last sacrament during the early evening. According to tentative funeral ar-angimnis announcd today by Frank K. Green, marshal of the supreme court, who has taken charge, interment will take place here in Oakhill cemetery following simple serv-ices under the Catholic ritual to be held at St. Matthews church at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.
